ADVANTAGE : EARPLUGS

Gambling on your hearing is a losing bet every time.
Giving yourself a fair advantage isn't cheating—it's just common sense.

The world is full of things that make a sizable racket.

From bulldozers to vacuum cleaners, jet aircraft to lawnmowers, and electric guitars to jackhammers, our ears can come constantly under assault at work and at home. Unprotected and over time, the result may be the stealthy progress of irreversible, noise-induced hearing loss.

However, not all is lost.

Even the biggest, baddest noise source isn't invincible.

Something as simple as the right pair of earplugs, properly fitted and offering the correct amount of attenuation for a given noise level, can provide all the protection you need.
